

NO RECEIPT? NO PROBLEM.

Your residents can register today for access to all of their laundry card activity and say goodbye to paper receipts!

Momentum for paperless receipts is growing quickly and everyday more and more retailers are moving to digital receipts to support global green initiatives and assist in the battle against accelerated climate change.

In the Laundry Payment System world, paper receipts can pose other issues. Reload kiosks typically located in a laundry room where the environment is often moisture rich, have ongoing problems with printers and receipt paper jamming as even thermal receipt paper absorbs the moisture in the environment and becomes thicker.

Today at Coinamatic, all our contactless laundry card reload kiosks are online or being transitioned to online and Coinamatic Customer Service Representatives can verify that a payment was made successfully so users don't need to provide a receipt for any issues that they are reporting in the event they require a refund.

That being said, Coinamatic contactless laundry card users simply register their card number at www.smartlaundry.ca to obtain access to all of their laundry card activity and if desired, obtain a receipt for any laundry card load transactions. It is simple and easy to access. There are no privacy concerns the information does not include specific payment card information but only that a transaction was successful as well as the date and the amount.

Together we can help to reduce the wastefulness of paper receipts and assist in the movement to help reduce impact on our environment.

Throughout 2020, we will start transitioning our reload kiosks for our card-based systems to paperless receipts.

Coinamatic is also actively moving to more efficient vended payment systems that will reduce the use of plastic laundry cards over time, with the introduction of mobile payment.

In an era where GREEN INITIATIVES exude a company's appreciation and dedication to the environment and planet, Coinamatic is an organization that strives to take great consideration into the environmental impact of its facilities, vehicles, employees, and laundry equipment.
